

Now With F.M.L.

WAVES OF CHANGE...

The biggest change since King Cotton in the 1890s now occurs in Cameron. Impetus for building this county seat came because of the powerful concentration of cotton economics here in numerous gins, compress, cottonseed mill, abundant labor, cotton brokers, financing growers large and small at century's turn.

Now the impetus is toward a modern community built on diversified agri-business (up almost $6 million over 1969 gross) and light industry.

Core of this town will be modern. Few towns of this age, of this size and at this time will be any better off. This is particularly true because of the crescendo of change which will ring outward from downtown rebuilding.

NOW-NOW-NOW

Compare it to dropping a stone in a pool of water. The waves radiate outward 360 degrees and roundward, either to the shore or to another set of waves. This is going to happen in Cameron in the next few years.

We already see considerable development along Fourth St., in the hospital and new federal housing areas, in the northwest industrial area, in residential streets, in many other things.

Central city redevelopment include the considerable improvements in new parking lots of Citizens and First National Banks, expansion at Cameron Coca-Cola Bottling Co., numerous faceliftings on buildings, new construction at Southwest Bell Telephone Co., clearing of old Santa Fe and SP freight terminals, to name a few. You can mention numerous others.

It is remarkable. It is unity. People did it. Leaders did it. You did it. We did it.

Boy Scouts Mark 64th Anniversary

This Sunday, local churches will be brightened by uniformed Scouts -- Cubs, Boy Scouts, and Explorers -- as they mark Boy Scout Sunday.

The Scouts are celebrating their 64th year during the whole month of February instead of the traditional week. In this issue of The Herald, the Scouts are saluted on their good works and fine organizations by local businessmen and friends.

The Herald will feature photos of local posts, troops, and packs during this month, starting with a new explorer post and a young troop in this issue.

Ron Derry, Texas District Scout Executive, said the national organization of Boy Scouts will undertake a massive conservation service project known as "Project SOAR!" (Save Our American Resources!)

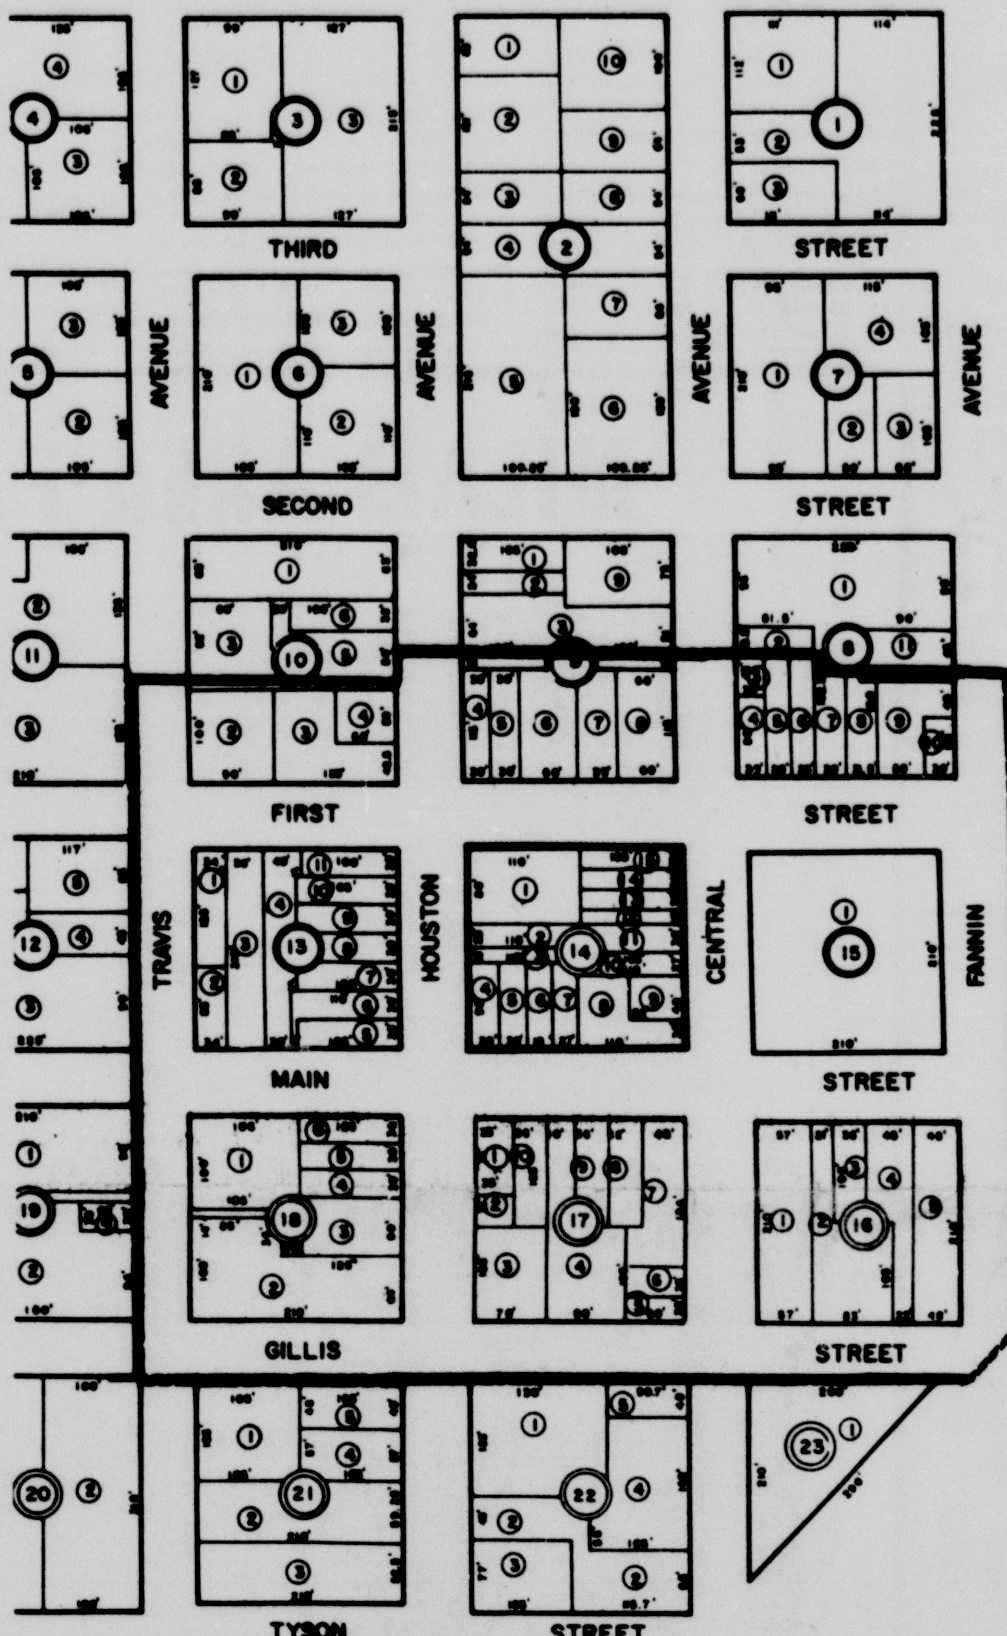

Local Scouts will choose community improvement or conservation projects, based on the needs of the community. March 20 will be the kickoff date for local projects, which will be chosen and planned this month, Derry said.

HUD OKs Grant, Loan For Nine Downtown City Blocks

A. W. McCullin, chairman of Cameron Urban Renewal Board, Friday said the HUD contract for applying $617,535 to downtown renewal will be signed in about two weeks.

A telegram to McCullin and director A. E. Matula from Norman Watson, Department of HUD, Washington, D. C., authorized:

"$617,535 federal grant and $776,885 temporary loan approved for downtown project Tex. R-108, Cameron, Texas."

Difference between the grant and temporary loan is $159,350, the amount which the local urban renewal agency expects to receive from land sale.

News of approval by Housing & Urban Development (HUD) late in the day, February 3, came by advisory from Congressman W. R. Poage and a telegram from U. S. Senator John G. Tower.

Said Senator Tower's identical telegrams to The Herald and to A. E. Matula, director of the urban renewal office: "HUD has obligated $617,535 for Part 2 of Cameron, Texas, urban renewal program. Obligation insures funding assistance for complete project."

"John G. Tower, U.S. Senator"

Advised N. L. Caperton, of Cameron: "Cong. W. R. Poage called today (morning of February 4) and informed Albert McCullin, Sr., chairman of the Cameron Urban Renewal Board, that Cameron's application for urban renewal development of the downtown area has been approved in the amount of $617,535. A contract will be signed with the regional office, HUD, in Dallas, within the next few days. Work will begin in the very near future."

McCullin, who has chaired the urban renewal and city planning commission during the past eight years, said "we may have men on the moon, but right now we're Cloud 9."

McCullin told The Herald Friday he, in behalf of the urban renewal board, will meet with Leo Garrett, district director of HUD, Dallas, within two weeks for signing the contract.

He said once the contract is signed, the money in effect will become available for the 9-block, downtown program.

McCullin urged property owners in the designated downtown renewal area to check with urban renewal officials before any active steps are taken to move or change anything within the area.

FIRST ACTION

McCullin said the first active stage of development will be a second appraisal of property designated in the voluminous plan for rehabilitation, purchase or dismantling.

Focal point of the program is relocating businesses, purchase of buildings and destruction of the block immediately west of Milam Court House. It will become a mall-offstreet parking center, becoming in three years property of the City of Cameron through the Cameron Urban Renewal Board.

Elsewhere in the downtown area, see Drawing, this page, specified buildings are scheduled for rehabilitation, purchase and dismantling.

McCullin emphasized low-interest loans are available to displaced businesses, upon moving, and grants are available for paying moving costs up to about $2,500.

MALL AREA

The mall area, see also Diagram, this page, will in effect extend the Court-house square into an enlarged Mall, opening onto First, Houston, Main and Fannin.

Other buildings in the area are designated for change. And streets and curbs will be modernized.

McCullin emphasized that "people convinced HUD officials that this program was desired and was necessary to Cameron's future."

Current members of the Urban Renewal Board are: McCullin, Miss Mildred Thornton, Porter Young, James Camp, Albert Hajovsky, Bill Burns, Dr. George Bowman.

Original board chairman was E. A. Perrin, now city mayor; and former members Monroe Fuchs, now a city councilman; and Don G. Humble, who resigned from the board a couple of years ago. McCullin said he was inviting Garrett to the annual Chamber banquet March 9 for introduction.

He said he hoped to make an updated report at that time, similar to a status report he gave last year when he was named winner of the McCullin Civic Award, a presentation he and Mrs. McCullin instituted in 1951.

CIF Directors, Officers Elected

In the recent election for directors of the Cameron Industrial Foundation, Narvie Caperton, Henry Siebman, and Gene Blake were named to serve three-year terms ending December 1, 1973.

To complete the board membership six directors were appointed for a one year term: Bill Burns, James Lafferty, LaVert McKinney, E. A. Perrin, Drayton McLane Sr. and Frank Luecke.

Officers re-elected for the year are Caperton, president; R. W. Wells, vice-president; and Siebman, treasurer.

San Gabriel Project Budgeted

GEORGETOWN

Cong. J. J. Pickle has announced that an actual construction start on the San Gabriel reservoir is possible under a $1.8 million recommendation in President Richard Nixon's 1972 budget. The president recommended $1 million in addition to the $800,000 in construction start money that was frozen last December. The $1.8 grant is included in president Nixon's record $229.2 billion budget. President Nixon recommended $67.5 million for water projects in Texas. Two special studies were included: $500,000 for a Texas water supply and pollution survey and $500,000 for a coastal hurricane protection study.

Code Says Ears Must Show

THORNDALE

A special committee on Student Grooming has drawn up a suggested grooming code for Thorndale Public School students which will be presented to the Thorndale School Board tonight (Monday). The code, which stresses "neatness and appropriateness" in dress, sets limits on boys' hair: "Hair may be worn no lower than the shirt collar in back. May be worn no longer than eyebrows in front. Ears must be showing at all times. The code also recommends prohibiting beards, moustaches and bare feet."

Hearne Plans Centennial

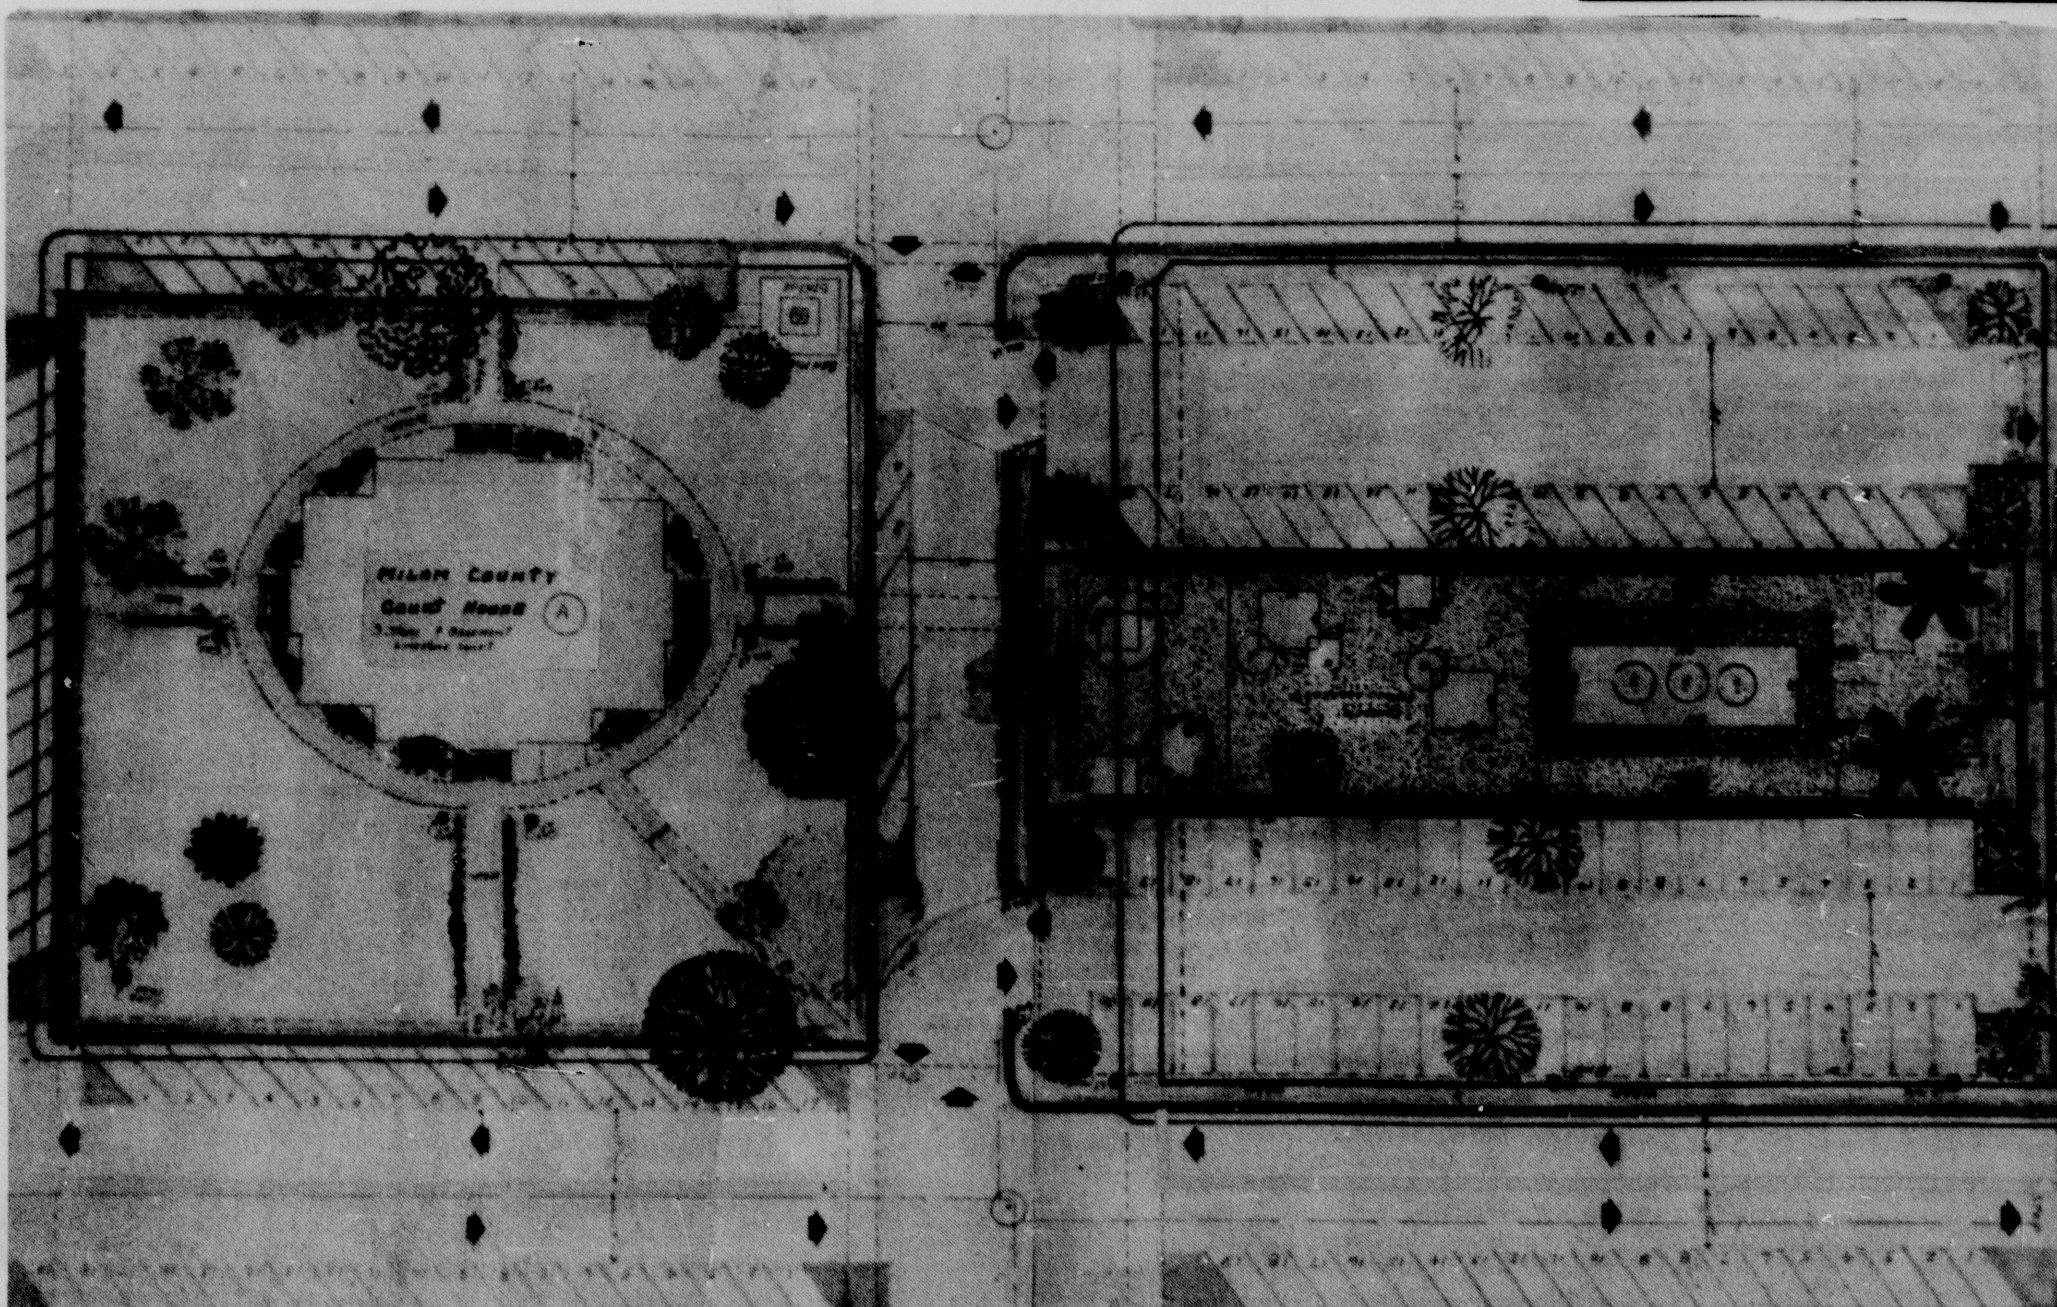

HEARNE

The City of Hearne will observe the 100th anniversary of its founding with a one-day centennial celebration tentatively set for May 22. Hearne Mayor Jake Abrams appointed Roy L. Henry, a descendant of one of the first families to colonize Robertson County, and City Attorney Bill Palmos to head a committee to plan and direct the celebration. Actually Hearne dates to 1840 when Code Brown built a tavern and stagecoach station there. But it was not until April 11, 1871 that Hearne officially became a town with the approval by the State legislature of a charter of incorporation.

County Faces Deficit Spending

CALDWELL

Burleson County commissioners will re-evaluate the county's programs and tax schedule in the next months in an effort to curb the deficit spending of the 1970 budget. County Judge Charles Sebesta said a recent audit of the 1970 budget revealed that expenditures exceeded income by $25,600 last year. He said anticipated expenditures for 1971 would mean another $25,000 loss. Sebesta said he is not specifically advocating raising taxes now, but "we have to start running the county as though it were a business." He said there had been only two major tax increases in Burleson County in the last 50 years. One was in 1927, the other in 1964.

Congratulate Yourself....

What's left to be said? We of Camerondid it. Washington approved the downtown urban program of $617,000 Thursday. A release from Cong. Poage and a telegram from Senator Tower confirm it. Possibly the biggest change in Cameron since Cotton assumed noble proportions at century's turn is in the offing. Matched with moneys pledged by the City of Cameron, the federal allotments of $617,000 plus moving grants and remodeling loans will, in fact, rebuild downtown Cameron streets, curbs, and remove noxious old buildings and restore the center city to a modern place in modern development. Everyone knows the story. And many know the program has required patience and dedication to a program which until only a few years ago was anathema here. Town hall meetings, A. W. McCullin's urban renewal board, an incredible, across-the-board support for this program brought it about. Next time you look in the mirror, congratulate yourself. You are living in a town and county which is willing to pay the price for resolving arduous problems.

Balance For Endurance....

The growth bug has hit Milam agriculture as gross receipts in the agri-business industry gained almost $6 million in 1970 over a $19,327,079 total in 1969. Knowledgeable observers will wonder how much of the gross gain, a whopping 31 percent, is inflation-inspired. It cannot all be inflation. National inflation percentage during the year ran about 6 percent, a record since the Korean War years. Perhaps specific costs spiralled within elements of the industry another 10 percent. That still leaves a net gain of 15 percent somewhere in the Milam agriculture picture. Added to the payroll growth at Milam County, 250 new jobs, less 40 laid off a few weeks ago, during the past 18 months, plus payroll gains in Cameron during the past two years and you have a healthy, powerful economy. And the most enduring factor you have with this combination is balance. And that, dear reader, is a factor which will bolt Milam County past many other Texas counties in the decade ahead.

Letters to the Editor

Dear friends, February 4, 1971

We know that anything we could say would be inadequate because we just do not have the proper words.

It would be nearly impossible for us to express our appreciation and gratitude to everyone in Cameron and neighboring communities for all the loving kindness which has been poured out to all of us during the illness of mine and most recently the death of our loved one, Lil.

We think that no one will ever know just how much all this love and kindness has meant to Lil, Mike and me.

Had Lil survived her ordeal, we know that she would have wanted us to thank each of you individually. But since this cannot be, Mike and I will try. We will be forever grateful for all the prayers, flowers, cards, letters. And each kind word that has been spoken in Mike's behalf.

We would like to express our appreciation for all that has been contributed to the Mike Peck Fund these past three months and a special note of thanks to Radio Station K.M.I.L. and your newspaper.

All this love and kindness has meant so very much to Lil, Mike and me.

Kubiak Introduces 'Party Purity' Law

AUSTIN (SPECIAL) State Rep. Dan Kubiak in Austin has called for Texans throughout the state to support his "Party Purity Law."

"Recent developments in Texas point out now more than ever that this state needs political honesty in its government and this begins with the party system," he said.

Rep. Kubiak stated that he is introducing HB310 which requires an individual to affiliate with his party at the time of registration in order to vote in the primaries and run-off elections of the various parties.

"We not only need, but must revise, the rigged primary, county and State Convention system for this is the grass roots of democracy and the place where all government begins. If we are to have honesty in public office, we must have political honesty."

"If my bill passes, this will slow the migration of voters from one party to the other during the primary and run-off elections, and should reduce the 'political polkas' experienced in previous years," Rep. Kubiak stated.

Basically HB 310 requires an individual to affiliate with a political party before participating in party primaries, party conventions and other party affairs. No person may be affiliated with more than one party at the same time, and a fine of up to $1000 is imposed on the violators," he continued.

"Under this bill, it shall be unlawful for a judge or a clerk of a primary or run-off election to permit a person to vote unless the voter is shown to be affiliated with the party holding the primary in the manner prescribed."

This would stop individuals in this state from voting in two primaries. Provisions are made for all the major and minor parties in this bill along with non-partisan and independent candidates for public office, Kubiak added.

New Humble Station Nears Completion

Cameron's newest gasoline service station, under construction for Humble Oil & Refining Company for the past several weeks, is nearing completion, and plans call for it to open about March 1.

Located on West Fourth Street between North Travis and Crockett, the station will join five other service stations in that area which could be termed Cameron's "Gasoline Alley".

It occupies a 230 foot long lot on the north side of Fourth Street adjoining the Dairy Queen. The building is centered on the north side of the lot and is of concrete tile, brick and glass construction. It measures 50 feet by 80 feet, including the large canopy that extends in front.

The 50 by 30 foot building itself will contain an office, a showroom, rest rooms, and a section for wash and grease racks and other facilities. Almost the entire front of the station will be of plate glass.

In addition to the large canopy in front, there will be another canopy, 27 by 27 feet, located on the east side.

A large area around the building will have cement paving, including curbs and driveways, and much of this is already laid. There will be 6,000 square feet of concrete paving when completed.

Cost of construction of the building and other improvements to the property will be approximately $95,000.

Rayco Construction Company of Houston is the building contractor.

Gov. Smith Asks Expansion Of State Airport Program

Governor Preston Smith has recommended a significant expansion of the Texas airport development program.

In his budget message to the 62nd Legislature, Smith proposed an appropriation of $2.35 million to finance the Texas Aeronautics Commission's Airport Systems Program for the 1972-73 biennium.

The state budget for airport construction and research in the current biennium is $935,700.

The governor asked the legislature to provide $1 million -- $500,000 each year -- to help local governments meet the matching fund requirements of the Federal Airport Airways Act of 1970.

That Act could make available up to $15 million a year for airport development in Texas, but only if local governments are able to match the federal funds dollar for dollar.

Charles Murphy, director of the Texas Aeronautics Commission, has warned that many Texas cities will be unable to participate in the new federal air-

The remaining $1.35 million recommended by Smith would be used primarily to develop the state air transportation system, which includes airports of all sizes and kinds. Under this program, the state already has participated in 141 airports, mostly without federal aid.

port program unless they receive state help in providing the matching funds.

The Federal Act is designed primarily for airports that are served by interstate airlines and "reliever" airports that relieve congestion at the major airports.

The present state program is limited to airports serving communities of less than 50,000 population, and the amount available to any one community during the fiscal year is limited to $27,500.

"To gain greater flexibility in the state grant program, it is recommended that the population and grant amount ceilings be removed," Smith said.

You Don't Say ...

BOOTLICKER if you wish to accurately label THAT MAN in your office.

Does he out-yes the top yes-men? Does he cater to rich and influential people, does he flatter servilely; praise extravagantly? He's a complete hypocrite out to curry favors.

You would pronounce him, literally a SYCOPHANT; phonetically, a sick uh FUNT!

Buy License Plates Early, Avoid Rush

Now is the time for all good motor vehicle owners in Texas to come to their own aid by registering their vehicles early.

The registration renewal season opened February 1 at county tax offices and designated sub-stations. Tax collectors are obligated by law to begin selling license plates on February 1.

The "season" runs through February and March, although the wise motorist will save time and trouble by registering his vehicle early and by using the handy three-part form he received in the mail from the Texas Highway Department.

All one needs to do is take the three-part renewal application -- being careful not to separate the three parts of the form -- to the county tax office or sub-station.

Using the new form, it takes the clerk only a fraction of the time that it used to to process the form, collect the fee and send the motorist on the way with his 1971 license plates.

BUSINESS REVIEW

Culpepper's Means Fine Home Furnishings.

Culpepper's in Cameron means home furnishings from floor to ceiling, from kitchen to living-room anytime.

Manager Frank Richter, Jr., can advise on what is suitable for the home. His 25 years experience, 12 of them manager of the 10,000 square-foot furniture and appliance center, assures the knowledgeability to make your dollar get value received.

Owner of Culpepper Furniture and Milam Music Co., managed by Dwight Moody, is Wallace Culpepper, of Cameron. The store opened in the downtown Cameron location in 1944.

Assisting in sales at Culpepper Furniture is Miss Lena Mae Riddle, who has 14 years of sales experience in this Cameron business.

Assisting Moody in Milam Music Co., which retails records of all kinds are Eddie Pavelek and Katherine Junek. Backing Culpepper Furniture's name is a list of, indeed departments full of name-brand merchandise assuring customers value.

Names like General Electric Dearborn, Zenith, Frigidaire, Hoover, Eveready, O'Ceard, Pyrex, Morning Glory, Gates, Samsonite, Tappan, Blue Lustre are household words and are everyday stock merchandise at the huge furniture center.

Major purchases like refrigerators, luggage, appliances, vacuum cleaners, heaters, rugs, tables, television and stereo sets are well stocked.

Smaller items in price and size, equipment for the outdoorsman, mailboxes, hardware items of many kinds, cardtables, portable record players await you.

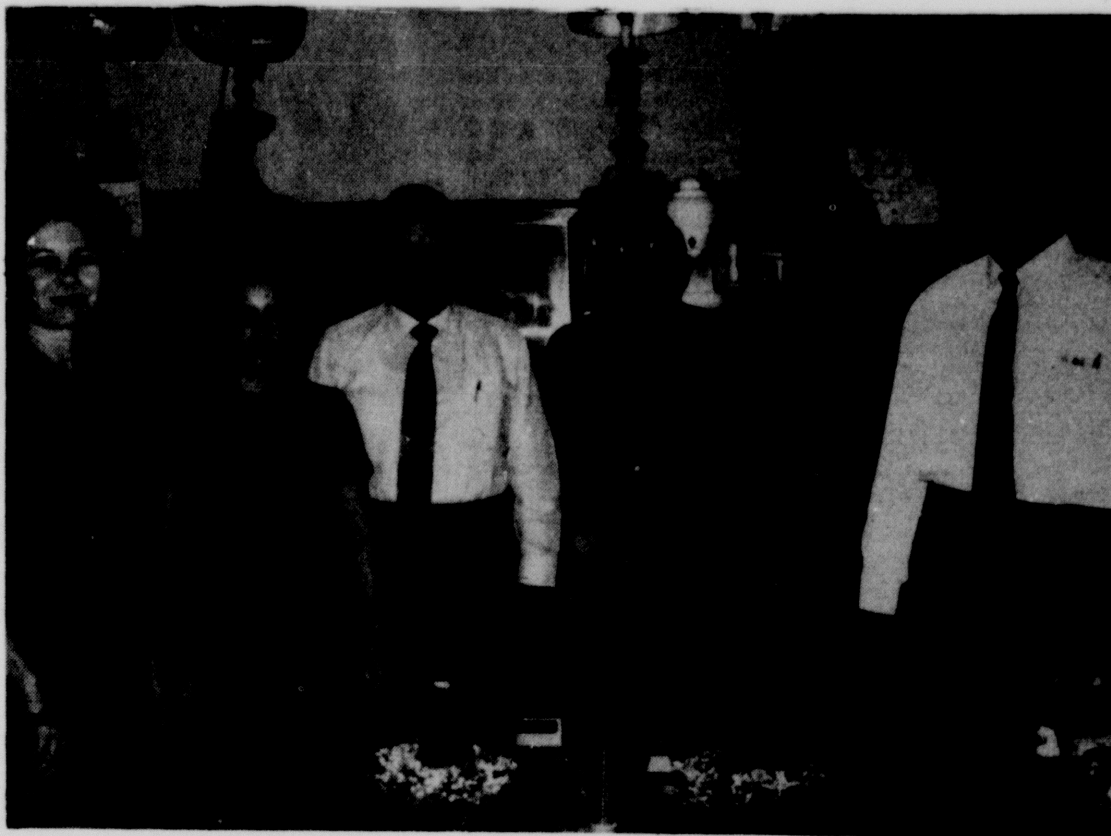

And mattresses, livingroom, diningroom and kitchen equipment and suites are well displayed for shopper view.

And when you buy, delivery is assured in a 50-mile radius of Cameron, anywhere in the Milam trade area, no additional charge, of course.

It is always a pleasure to shop where you know the merchandise is good and the personnel are qualified to demonstrate it, to describe its construction and serviceability and the terms on which you may purchase it.

Such an experience awaits the shopper at Culpepper's, easily one of the largest retail firms in the Milam area, and one of the most experienced in selling and servicing furniture and hardware good for years to come.

Schigut's Now Offers Singer Dept.

Schigut's in Cameron has a reputation for good clothing, but the department store has added a new department, the only one in the Milam area.

It is a sales and service department for the famous Singer Sewing Machines, one of the best known household lines in the world.

John Schigut, manager and store owner, is taking as much as 10 percent in the new department.

ment as Mrs. Lottie Witt, Mrs. Louise Butler and Mrs. Frieda Smith whose sales experience in clothing and piece goods help in advising what equipment is best for making one's own clothes, curtains and whatever a Singer Sewing machine can do, which is a lot.

Schigut's features a line of Singer machines in a department near the front of the downtown Cameron store. And any model not demonstrated or on display is quickly available through Singer sources at Schigut's.

Schigut's also assures service by Marshall Flores who lives in Cameron and has a number of years experience in maintenance and repair of sewing equipment.

The name Singer is not new to Cameron. It has 119 years since Singer started manufacturing sewing machines, the first models "foot-powered instruments only a remote cousin to the ultra-modern equipment now sold at Schigut's.

"Touch and Sew" is a familiar word for the new Model 750 Singer, "Golden Touch & Sew". Its simplicity, versatility and ease of operation is tops and typical of the whole range of Singer sewing equipment.

Other models are in the Touch and Sew line, including Model 756 Special Zig-Zag, the Zig-Zag and the Deluxe Straight Stitch Touch & Sew.

These machines do it all, when it comes to sewing. But, of course, the Golden Touch & Sew is the only model which has all the features of the 1970 line, including:

--Both built-in and interchangeable Fashion Discs, which produce almost unlimited variety of practical and decorative stitches.

--Flexi-Stitch Discs that produce stretchable stitches for knits and stretch fabrics plus intricate stitch designs, including hemstitching, feather stitching.

--One-way needle clamp that makes it impossible to insert the needle backwards.

--Two kinds of temporary stitching for speed basting or chainstitching for growth tucks and removable trims.

--Two-speed motor with a fast speed range for seams and slower range for precision control.

These are features, part or all, of the famous Singer Sewing Machine line. And Schigut's in Cameron is your Singer dealer for sales and service.

Call John Schigut, 697-3343, for more information. Better, yet, visit Schigut's.

Rogers' Supt. Harbour Announces His Retirement

ROGERS
B. F. Harbour, for 16 years superintendent of the Rogers Independent School District, presented his letter of retirement, effective June 30, 1971, to the Board of Trustees at the regular monthly meeting Thursday night.

B. F. HARBOUR

Harbour had two years to go on his current contract. He told the Board in the spring of 1969 that it would be time for him to retire in a year or two. He says he does not believe he "is as old as the calendar says he is."

Harbour came to the Rogers schools on July 1, 1955, after having been superintendent at Ganado, Texas for six years. Before that he was Dean of Victoria Junior College for four years. He was high school principal in several Texas High schools prior to that time, starting as teacher and principal in rural schools; total teaching is 49 years serving the children of Texas.

Since 1955 the Rogers school system has gone from one that was at that time under accreditation "warning" by the Texas Education Agency, to a leading central Texas school system. In 1955 only a few graduates of Rogers High School went to college. The number has gradually risen so that out of the 1970 graduating class, 67% are in college.

Rogers seniors do well in the National Merit Scholarship tests and in college. Those who do poorly in college, usually did the same here in high school.

Harbour, always a strong exponent of providing learning and leadership opportunities for students, started the first student council in Rogers High School in the fall of 1955, which was the third student council he had started in as many high schools.

Through the years, with good sponsors, the Council in Rogers High School has been a strong influence for developing leadership on the part of students, for developing a good relationship between students and the faculty, and in helping students learn to shoulder responsibilities.

He also encouraged the then high school principal, J. L. Chervenka, to re-activate the National Honor Society local chapter, and to provide other club organizations for the students, which he did in a fine way.

The morale of the student body, the faculty, and the school patrons has generally been very high through the years, attesting to the fine educational and working environment provided them through the years in the Rogers schools.

One of the many things the retiring superintendent is proudest of is the high caliber of the faculty all along. He has recruited and recommended for election by the Board over 110 teachers, and nearly everyone of them has been the kind the Board would like to keep forever.

Harbour has acquired more than 1970 Rogers is one of 26 school systems in the state of Texas chosen for this experiment. It is the "Shift of Emphasis" program, the newest thing in special education. Rogers is one of the three or four small schools in the project. than $75,000 in government surplus goods, with the assistance of J. H. Merka, vocational agriculture teacher, who always worked with him in this field.

Harbour said he has had a wonderful relationship all along with the Board of Trustees. He planned well for every Board meeting, spending a great deal of time keeping board members posted on educational happenings in and out of the Rogers schools. He is a firm believer in keeping a school board well informed.

Also, he has always tried to keep the larger school community informed about the schools. Although there has been some handicap at this point because Rogers has had no local newspaper for about 13 years, the Cameron and Temple newspapers have been most helpful in carrying many, many items of school news through the years.

Although Harbour might generally be considered a conservative school man, yet the Rogers schools have been asked to serve and they have volunteered other times as pilot schools in new programs, and the system has been at the forefront in many educational projects and ideas.

For example, in a five-year pilot program beginning September, Don Roy Hafner, Director of the state project from Austin in the Service Center, recently told a Rogers audience that "the Rogers school system was chosen as one of the 26 schools in Texas in this project because the top leadership here and the teachers have shown on many occasions that they care for their children and they seem to really want to do something about it."

The Rogers school system was among the first to accept federal funds and to use the funds for buying much needed equipment, and in employing people in important areas the school's regular budget could not afford, like school nurse, remedial reading teacher, school (adult) aides, and others.

During the 16 years, the Rogers Board has taken two building programs accompanied by a raise in taxes to the people of the school district, and each one passed with a good majority.

'GOING FIRST CLASS'
Although he did not parade the fact, Harbour has tried to lead the Rogers schools through the years on the motto of "Going First Class", of putting on a well-rounded program and doing a good job of it, with the academic program always coming first.

For example, he found out in 1955 that the track and field team of Rogers High School had won only one point in district meet that past spring, and he was told the baseball team had turned in their uniforms before the season was over.

Harbour, realizing from years of experience as a principal or superintendent the importance of having a well-rounded athletic program, urged Coach George Moore to require his football team to come out for track that spring. Moore also liked the idea, and that first spring his track and field team won first place in the district meet. Since then there has been a well-rounded program, and many Rogers teams with good coaching have won wide success and acclaim.

Rogers High School has had a fine band program for a long time, and it has been encouraged all along. Harbour has worked with school auxiliary organizations like the Rogers PTA and the Rogers Band Parents Club very closely and encouragingly because he believes such organizations can do much good for the school system if properly guided and encouraged. He is proud of his fine relationship with these organizations.

Harbour and his wife, the former Imogene Hampton of Corsicana, have four sons, all graduates of Rogers High School, all Eagle Scouts, and all graduates of Baylor University. Mrs. Harbour also teaches.

The Harbours have always been active in church, community and area activities. He is past president of the Rogers Community Service Club and has served and is serving on a number of educational and civic executive committees.

Harbours has also been on the Boy Scout council and is a member of the Board of Trustees of Mary Hardin-Baylor College.

Harbour is also professionally a member of numerous education associations and has been cited by Rogers school organizations.

Harbour is a 1927 graduate of North Texas State University with a BA degree in history and English. His MA degree was earned at the University of Texas at Austin in 1934, with a major in school administration. Additional graduate work was done at Peabody college in Nashville, Tenn., and at UT.

After retirement the last of June, the Harbours plan to live a more leisurely life than the hustle and bustle they have been in the middle of for many years. However, they plan to keep busy with community and area activities. They plan to travel a lot.

Mrs. Harbour will have more time for her art which she dearly loves and he will resume his hobby of writing. Harbour has had some fifteen or twenty articles published in magazines, but he says he has been so busy being superintendent in recent years he has not had time for writing.
